

That's the story

kiwi stories for kiwi kids

newsletter fourteen april 2007

Hi ya'll, hope the hols went well? Daylight savings is behind us, the leaves are on the ground, the heater's been turned up a notch, and it gets dark early. Great excuse to have a bit of fun on the 'That's The Story' website.

To keep you occupied over the winter months we're also working really hard on the 'That's The Story' tv channel. It's coming along very nicely and will be coming to www.thatsthestory.co.nz very soon.

Did you notice the change to the 'I Found The Lolly' game? It's now got a page all of its own and those builders are hard out building a brand new room. Can you guess which room they're building? A bathroom perhaps, or maybe a bedroom, or is it the kitchen? When the new room is finished, hopefully in May, we'll be having a bumper cruncher, super duper, 'I Found The Lolly' celebration with some extremely awesome prizes to be won: thousands of stickers, hundreds of cuddly toys, Lego, cars, games, dolls, models, and more... We have ten backpacks that are so chocka block full of toys it's CRAZY!

And don't forget to get a picture of your pet on the Jansen's Pet Page. We've got heaps of pics on the pet page already but we want more, and every single week another pet is picked to win the Jansen's Pets gift voucher.

Hope that you're keeping nice and warm and remember, being stuck inside over winter doesn't mean the fun has to stop. You could place all the dining room chairs together, cover them with a sheet and make a tunnel! Or design indoor treasure hunts for all your friends and family, or you could write us a story! It might even win you $150.

Have a great month, and I'll catch you Sunday on Classic Hits from 7 till 8am.

Ronnie

AMAZING facts about the tongue:

- Every single person has a unique tongue print.
- There are four basic tastes that the human tongue can detect. Salty and sweet are tasted on the tip of the tongue, bitter is tasted at the base of the tongue, and sour is tasted along the sides of the tongue.
- Girls have more taste buds than boys do!
- Taste buds last about ten days. However, your body is making new ones all the time.
- A person cannot taste their food unless it is mixed with saliva. For example, if salt is placed on a dry tongue, the taste buds will not be able to taste it. As soon as a drop of saliva is added and the salt is dissolved, the person can taste the salt.
- Your tongue is the strongest muscle in your body!
