

That's the story

kiwi stories for kiwi kids

newsletter twelve february 2007

Hello there storylovers. It's a huge time ahead for 'That's The Story'. In March each and every single subscriber to this newsletter is in to win $100 cash! So, tell all your mates to subscribe to the 'That's The Story' newsletter, and they could be in to win.

Speaking of cash, have you got a picky of your pet on the Jansens Pet Page? It's on the website www.thatsthestory.co.nz Click on the Jansens Pet Page—it's chocka block filled with your pets... and if yours isn't on there yet, get it on as soon as possible 'cause during March I'm gonna pick a pet and that pet's owner is gonna win $100 cash. So, get a picky of your pet on the Jansens Pet Page real quick.

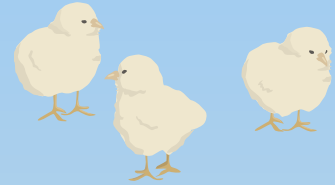

Congratulations to Jenna Widdicombe, 11 years old from Sunnynook. She guessed February's 'Mystery Voice'. Yes, it was Judy Bailey and that i-Pod shuffle is on its way to you, Jenna. If YOU'd like a chance to win an i-Pod shuffle, check out the 'Mystery Voice' on our website. Someone famous is reading a story. Take a guess at who it is, and if you're right, you're in to win an i-Pod shuffle too.

The 'I Found The Lolly' renovations are coming along quite nicely, and soon it's gonna get a lot harder to find that lolly. I'll let you know when the new room is finished.

If there's anything you'd like to hear on the show, anything you'd like to see on the website, or anything you'd like to add to the 'That's The Story' newsletter, just let me know and I'll see what I can do. Send all your ideas to:

Have a cool March, and spot ya Sunday!

- Boiled guinea pig used to be eaten in Ecuador.
- Cows produce more milk when they listen to music!
- Bubble gum contains rubber.
- Peanuts are one of the ingredients found in dynamite!
- Eating an apple will make you feel more awake than drinking a cup of coffee.
- Chewing gum can stop you from crying when chopping up onions.
- In Korea, eggs are sometimes sold hanging from bits of string!
