

That's the story

kiwi stories for kiwi kids

newsletter thirty-two february 2009

First up, a big "I'M SORRY" for being late with February's newsletter. It's been a busy month. We've been working flat tuck on 'That's The Story's' biggest and best ever game. It's called 'Who Wants To Be A Hundredaire?' and it's a new game that will be on the website VERY soon. It will give you the chance to win $100 cash and we'll have a winner every single week on the show.

We've also been working really hard with PaperPlus and we'll be bringing you a VERY exciting competition in the next few weeks that will give you the chance to win a free lunchtime concert with the Funky Monkeys, New Zealand's SUPERGROUP for kids.

Don't forget to tell the grown ups all about the 'Grown-ups Page'. There's heaps of prizes for mums and dads and grown-ups in general, plus please do check out the 'Grown-ups Guide'. These people support 'That's The Story', so it would be cool to support them in return!

I'd REALLY love to see some of your art work. Do send it in and I'll put it on the 'PaperPlus Art Gallery'. You never know, it might just win you a very cool art pack!

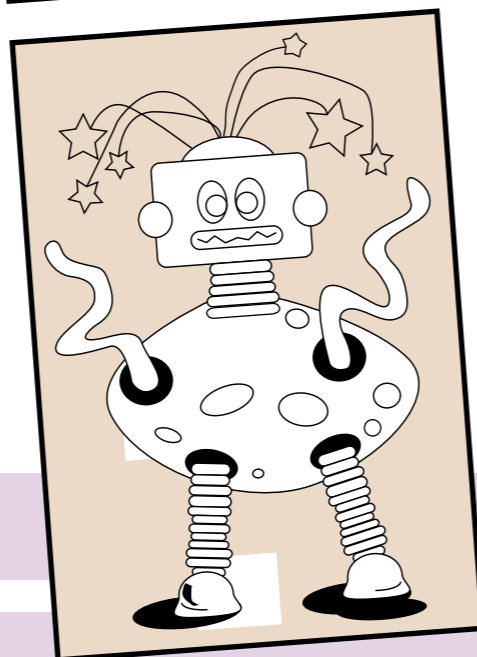

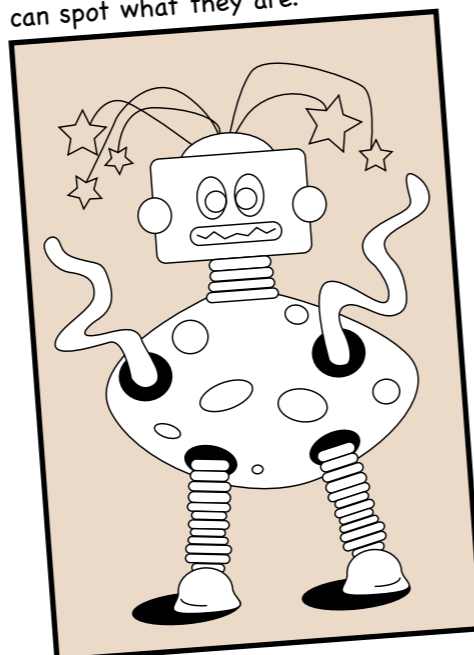

Same goes for your pet's picky! Send us a photo of your pet and I'll pop it in the 'Butch Pet Page'. We're giving away some V-cool Butch prizes every single week.

If you reckon you're quite good at guessing what stuff is, check out the new game on 'That's The Story' TV. On our tv page there's a picture of a mystery object. If you can guess what it is, you're in to win $10. If it's not won then the next week it's worth $20, and it'll keep going up and up in value until someone wins, so give it a go!

Have a very groovy week and I'll catch ya all on Sunday. See ya, Ronnie

Spot The Difference

There are six differences between the two pictures below. See if you can spot what they are.

Freaky Number Stuff

Did you know:

- That Buckingham Palace, where the Queen lives, has more than 600 rooms.
- That the opposite sides of a dice always add up to seven.
- That there are more than 200 lashes on a human eyelid. Each lash is shed every three to five months.
- That every five seconds a baby is born somewhere in the world.
- That lightning is five times hotter than the surface of the sun.
- That the name Hitler was listed in the New York phone directory 22 times before World War II. It wasn't listed at all after the war!
- That the average person spends three entire years of their life sitting on the toilet. Ewww...
- That you share your birthday with more than nine million people. That's a lot of cake!
- That by weight, a hamburger costs more than a new car.
