kiwi stories for kiwi kids

newsletter one march 2006

Hi kids, and welcome to our first ever 'That's The Story' newsletter. Now that you've subscribed to our 'That's The Story' fan club, you'll receive a brand new newsletter every single month. Here we'll be giving you updates about the show, letting you know what's happening on the website, plus telling you all about the new competitions coming up and the fantastic prizes to be won. You never know, it just might be you who's next in line to win something wonderful!

We don't just want the 'That's The Story' newsletter to be about us, however. We want it to be about you too, and so we're inviting you to submit small stories, poems, jokes, and even drawings, in to us for inclusion in our next issue. See our contact details on the next page. Don't forget to include your name, age, address and phone number on anything that you send in, so that we can easily get in touch with you if we need to.

Oh, and congratulations to all those listeners who entered our 'Name the Puppy' competition. My new puppy is called Poppy and I've included a picture of her fast asleep after a hard day's chasing tennis balls and swimming in the creek!

Have a great month and keep on listening in to the show.

Ronnie

Congratulations

To Belinda Whitehead. You've won a 'That's The Story' cd just for subscribing to our fan club. Each month we'll be drawing another cd winner. Remember that every subscriber is in the monthly draw to win a cd so tell all your friends to get on-line and join up now.

- What do the letters:

H I N O S X Z

have in common?

They look exactly the same upside

- What do the letters:

A E F H I K M

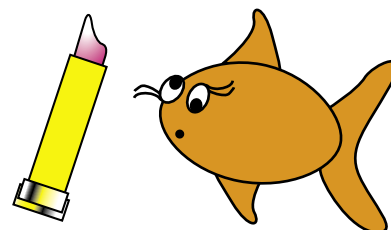

have in common?

They have no straight lines.

Did YOU Know?

That the world is four thousand, five hundred million years old AND to get off planet Earth, your spaceship has be going 11km/second. Crikey, that's a little bit faster than my mountain bike!

And, that most lipsticks contain fish scales! Eughhhh.

Fab Competitions

Wanna win a prize? Yeah, you do. Well, we've got some fantastic competitions for you to enter.

The 'That's The Story' Mystery Prize

Head for the website, click on the 'contact us' button, and write the words 'Mystery Prize' along with your name, age, address and phone number. You'll be in to win absolutely anything from a toothbrush (ha ha ha!) to $100 cash.

Write a Story

Write a story. Send it in, and you might win $150 cash plus have your story read on-air by someone famous. Coming up, we've got Tim Balme, Prime Minister Helen Clarke, Don McGlashan, and Dave Dobbyn, to name but a few. PLUS, don't forget to enter our weekly competitions too, available on the website: Hangman and Find the Lolly. Excellent weekly prizes to be won.

PLUS, keep on listening because someone, sometime this month is going to win an iPod Shuffle...

The maze at Hampton Court, in England, was planted in 1689! See if you can find your way to the centre and back out again.

- The toothbrush was invented in 1770, by William Addis in England.
- The wheelbarrow was invented in China by Chuko Liang in 200AD. That's a long time ago!

Web News

The 'That's The Story' website just keeps on getting better and better and growing bigger and bigger. Check out our funky new colouring-in pages. You can even print them out, and we'd love to see some of the finished ones.

You can also play Find the Lolly, Hangman, Speedbump the Nervous Possum, The Amazing Dare-Dozen Egg Game, as well as read some stories and check out the 'Buy Me' page. Coming up soon, we'll be getting some famous people to read some of the stories as well.
